WEG Program To Discuss "The Glass Ceiling" Monday, January 24

"The Glass Ceiling" and "Women in Media Today" will be the provocative topic to be addressed by a panel of experts at the Women's Evening Group's open program meeting on Monday evening, January 24th.

The problems of women in the media, how far they have come and how far they still have to go, will be discussed by three outstanding women media professionals. The panel, to be moderated by Ellen Rossen, an acclaimed television producer, will include Joan Hamburg, noted broadcast personality, and Marge Lipton, a 20 year veteran of ABC News.

Ms. Rossen, an Emmy Award winner for her work on 20/20, also has produced a number of highly praised programs including "Our World" and the "Pope and His Vatican." Most recently, Ms. Rossen was senior producer of the 90 minute CBS special entitled, "Classic Television Interviews-One on One," aired in November, 1993.

A consumer lifestyle reporter who appears regularly on WCBS TV, Ms. Hamburg has been a pioneer for women on and off the air. A popular author, her talk show can be heard daily on WOR Radio.

Marge Lipton has had a distinguished career at ABC News. She is the first female at any network to have produced a national news broadcast. A Peabody Award winner, she spent eight years overseas covering the Middle East and Eastern Europe. Currently, Ms. Lipton works for the Council on Foreign Relations.

Please join WEG at this open meeting for an exciting program on this important woman's issue as it plays out behind the scenes of our media. Refreshments will be served at 7:30 P.M. and the panel discussion will follow at 8 P.M.

A New Look At The Akeda Story: Rabbi Neil Gillman

A respected, master teacher in the Sherr Institute of Adult Jewish Studies, Rabbi Neil Gillman will return to Park Avenue Synagogue to teach a course on The Akeda, the story of Abraham's acceptance of God's command to sacrifice his son Isaac.

This story has been prominent in both Jewish and non-Jewish religious thought and general literature through the centuries. Rabbi Gillman will explore the religious and historical significance of this biblical narrative. How do we, how can we, understand the meaning of this troubling story? Is it still relevant for us moderns, Jews and non-Jews alike, and if so, why?

Rabbi Gillman is the Aaron Rabinowitz and Simon H. Rifkind Associate Professor of Jewish Philosophy at The Jewish Theological Seminary of America. He has served as dean of the Seminary's Rabbinical School and is the author of Sacred Fragments: Recovering Theology for the Modern Jew, as well as the recently published Conservative Judaism: The New Century.

Rabbi Gillman, who has the ability to make even the most difficult material both understandable and fascinating, always engages those who study with him in a dynamic exchange of ideas. He will give this course on five successive Tuesdays, January 18, 25, February 1, 8, and 15 from 8:30 to 9:45 P.M. Tuition: Members $40; Non-members $50.

Sherr Institute Offerings

Throughout this issue, you will find announcements of exciting new courses which will be offered by the Sherr Institute of Adult Jewish Studies beginning in January. This is your opportunity to enrich your Jewish education by studying with Rabbis Neil Gillman and Joseph A. Brodie of The Jewish Theological Seminary of America, award winning journalist J.J. Goldberg, Hebrew University professor Shalom Paul, and Park Avenue Synagogue's own Rabbis David H. Lincoln and Elana Zaiman and Cantor David Lefkowitz. There is something of interest for everyone. So pick your courses and call Mrs. Zimmel at 369-2600 to guarantee yourself a place.

J.J. Goldberg To Teach Course on American Jewish Politics

J.J. Goldberg, senior writer for The Jerusalem Report and one of the most respected journalists covering the ethnic politics of urban America, with a special focus on the religious and political life of the Jewish community, will teach an eight-session course this winter on American Jewish Politics in Crisis.

Among the topics to be covered will be: Who speaks for American Jews?; The Jewish agenda: Israel versus domestic needs; Black-Jewish relations: the downward spiral; the White House, Congress, and the Jewish vote; Jews and the American media; the future of Jewish philanthropy; and American Jews and the Middle East peace process.

The course will be given on eight successive Tuesday evenings at 7 P.M. beginning Tuesday, January 18.

Before joining The Jerusalem Report, J.J. Goldberg, a native New Yorker who received his master's degree in journalism from Columbia University in 1985, was the New York bureau chief of the Forward, and managing editor of the New York Jewish Week.

He has received numerous journalism awards, including the 1990 Simon Rockower Award of the American Jewish Press Association, and is the author of two books, The Jewish Americans: a Pictorial History and Builders and Dreamers: The Labor Zionist Youth Movement in North America. He is currently writing a major study of American Jewish political activity.

This course will provide a unique opportunity to gain insights into, and obtain an insider's perspective on the contemporary politics of American Jewry.

Tuition will be: Members $60; Non-members $70.

Health Care In Jewish Law: Concepts
And Sources

In the December, 1993 issue of the Park Avenue Synagogue BULLETIN, several health care concepts in Jewish law were presented: Hatzalat Nefashot-The Saving of Human Life; Bikkur Holim-Visiting the Sick; and the Distribution of Scarce Resources. In this issue, two additional concepts will be presented: Shemirat Ha-briyut-Preventive Care and Tzedaka-Communal Obligations to Meeting Basic Human Needs.

Shemirat Ha-briyut-Preventive Care: In addition to requiring a response to illnesses when they occur, Jewish law also requires that we make all attempts to stay well. In Deuteronomy, God tells the Jewish people, "take utmost care and watch yourselves scrupulously." The Talmud derives from these verses that a person must scrupulously guard his physical health (Berakhot 32b), and this ruling was codified by Maimonides (Hilkhot Rotzeah 11:44) and the Shulhan Arukh (Hoshen Mishpat 427:8). Maimonides understands this obligation to include both positive aspects, such as regular exercise and the seeking out of proper medical care, as well as negative ones, such as refraining from damaging of one's body through the consumption of harmful foods or drugs. [Hilkhot Deot, 4:1ff; see also Rabbi David Golinkin's ruling that smoking is prohibited by Jewish law in Moment Magazine, Oct. 1991, pp. 14-15].

Tzedaka-Communal Obligations to Meeting Basic Human Needs: Just as the Jewish community recognized an obligation to provide for such basic needs as food, clothing, and shelter through the collection and distribution of communal funds, so too, Jews have long insisted that no person should be denied access to health care on account of inability to pay. While physicians are not required to provide their services for free ("A physician who takes nothing is worth nothing"-

Tu B'Shevat

Tu B'Shevat, the New Year for Trees, begins at sundown, on Wednesday, January 26th and concludes at sundown, on Thursday, January 27th.

In Jewish history, Hillel and his disciples declared Chamisha Asar B'Shevat a semiholiday. They called it Rosh Hashana L'Ilanot (the New Year for Trees) because by this day in Israel the annual rains have ended and a new annual cycle of tree growth begins.

On this as well as on virtually all issues, the School of Hillel's decision was accepted and since the first century, C.E., the 15th day of the month of Shevat has been celebrated as the New Year for Trees.

Although no special liturgy or festivity is decreed for the day, in Israel, the ancient practice of planting trees has been revived and school children and others do so on Tu B'Shevat.

In our religious schools, children plant trees in Israel through the Jewish National Fund.

Professor Shalom Paul To Be Scholar-In-Residence January 21-22

Professor Shalom Paul, professor of Bible at Hebrew University of Jerusalem, will be the Scholar-in-Residence at the Sherr Institute of Adult Jewish Studies at Park Avenue Synagogue the weekend of January 21-22.

A noted scholar and provocative lecturer, Professor Paul will provide an exciting, original perspective on critical aspects of Biblical history.

Following the PASSingles service on January 21, Professor Paul will speak on The Genesis of Genesis. Based upon the latest archeological discoveries, this lecture will examine in depth the first known religious exodus, that of Abraham from his father's house to the land that God promised him and his descendants. The entire congregation is cordially invited to this lecture.

At the Shabbat lunch (advance reservation required) and lecture on January 22nd, which will follow the Shabbat morning service, Professor Paul will offer new insight into the understanding of the Scroll of Esther: Esther—The Wiles of Women. We all think we know the story of Esther. Modern scholarship, however, has added an additional dimension to an understanding of this material which makes it relevant to us today.

Watch the mail for your invitation to this exciting weekend and return your reservation card promptly as space is limited. Invite family members and friends to share this unique Shabbat experience with you.

at 9:15 A.M.). For this special service, students in the upper grades of the religious school will conduct parts of the Shabbat service, the high school students will read the Torah portions, Rabbi Elana Zaiman will discuss the Torah portion of the week, and Rabbi David H. Lincoln will deliver the sermon.

Parents, grandparents, and friends of the students are cordially invited to attend the Shabbat service. Then, after taking part in the service, the students will return to their regular classes and their family members and friends are invited to remain in the Main Sanctuary until the conclusion of the service. Afterwards, students, family members, and congregants will join together for a joyous Shabbat Kiddush.

This will be a wonderful opportunity for the entire congregation of adults and students to worship together and to participate and share the feeling of Shabbat togetherness.

Plan to attend this very special Shabbat morning service on February 5th. It will be very heartwarming to see the students and their families praying together with the entire congregation!

Main Sanctuary and the overall intent is to encourage greater congregant participation in praying and singing the beautiful music with which we welcome the Sabbath.

Then, after the service, the Men's Club has been sponsoring a brief Kiddush.

Moreover, on the first Friday evening of each month, a grade in the religious school usually conducts selected portions of the service and then a family Shabbat dinner follows for the students and their families.

So why don't you try to come to a Friday Night Service at 6:15 P.M. to see, hear, and sing with the choir, to take part in a more participatory service, to enjoy the Men's Club Kiddush and its well-known camaraderie following the service, and to start Shabbat by praying together with your congregational friends before going home to your Shabbat dinner. ## Sisterhood At The Movies Tuesday, January 18

Continuing its annual January "Sisterhood at the Movies" tradition, the Sisterhood of the Park Avenue Synagogue will show the film, "Enemies: A Love Story" on Tuesday, January 18th at 1 P.M.

Based on the Nobel prize winning novel by Isaac Basheva Singer, the movie is a complex, bitter-sweet drama, with both comic and tragic elements, which follows the lives of four Holocaust survivors trying to make new lives in New York City in 1949. It is brilliantly played by Ron Silver, Angelica Houston, Lena Olin, and Alan King.

So plan to attend. Mark your calendars today! No tickets are required. All members of the congregation are welcome to this event. Refreshments will be served.

Then, in May, Rabbi Lincoln will continue his lecture series Pivotal Moments in Jewish History begun last year and offered by the Sherr Institute of Adult Jewish Studies in conjunction with the Park Avenue Synagogue Sisterhood. In three 10:30 A.M. lectures, he will speak on: The Maccabean Revolt on May 3; The First Crusades on May 10; and The French Revolution on May 24.

Rabbi Joseph Brodie To Continue Course on Formative Years of the Jewish People

Rabbi Joseph A. Brodie, Dean of Students at The Jewish Theological Seminary of America, will continue his highly popular course on the formative years of the Jewish people.

The years between 1180 and 1050 B.C.E. covered by the end of the Book of Judges and the first seven chapters of I Samuel are characterized by a lack of central authority and ad hoc charismatic leadership, by a sense of anarchy, heterogeneity, and religious experimentation. Rabbi Brodie will analyze this period from a contemporary perspective, including the emergence of Samuel as part-prophet and part-judge which began the transition to the changing way of life and rule that was to follow.

This course will be given on five successive Tuesdays, February 22, March 1, 8, 15, and 22 from 8:30 to 9:45 P.M. Tuition: Members $40; Non-members $50.

Rabbi Zaiman To Speak At Men's Club Brunch Sunday, January 30

Parents' Association Program "Defining & Dealing With Problem Students" Monday, January 31

A panel discussion/seminar on the topic: "Defining and dealing with problem students" is being planned for Monday evening, January 31st at 8 P.M. Since the "problem student" is usually a problem in both secular and religious schools, the panel will discuss the definition of a problem child, the appropriate ways to establish an adequate diagnosis, how to obtain the required support systems for the child, and how to help the parents cope with the child. Elana Newman, Ph.D. will chair this panel and brings her particular expertise to this difficult problem area.

Mark your calendars now. Plan to attend what promises to be a highly informative and valuable program event sponsored by the Parents' Association.

WEG's Outreach "Telephone Companion Program" Volunteer Receives Heartwarming Letters

Dear Arline:

Now is my only chance to talk with you by writing you this letter. Every morning I leave home at 7:30 A.M. and come back at 10:30 P.M. This program, "English Now," which I am attending, I believe will be useful for me and for my future in this country.

But I believe that more helpful are our talks and meetings. They help us understand real American life and language. I'm very proud of our friendship and wish to say thank you for what you are doing for me and my family!

I believe that very soon I could explain all my feelings about you in perfect English.

We love you and wish you good luck and strong health! We also cannot wait until we meet you again.

With love, your friend,
Alla Len

Dear Arline:

I'm so happy that my mother met you. Now I know that she found a real friend with a beautiful heart and soul.

And again, thank you for everything that you are doing for us. And I hope that someday, I could be useful for you.

As for the closer future, I wish I could see you on my birthday on July 22nd.

Thank you,
Alex

WEG is calling for volunteers to take a little time each week to talk by phone with a recent emigre from the former Soviet Union. For more information, please call Arline Lane at 794-0385.

The Melamed Club For Young Jewish Singles

The Melamed Club for young Jewish single men and women 21 to 39 years of age meets monthly at Park Avenue Synagogue on Wednesday evenings at 7:15 P.M. The atmosphere is easy-going, warm and friendly, and a viable solution to the "singles scene." The parties start with a light dinner replete with wine and dessert and coffee. The "events" most always have a theme and include live entertainment.

Help support the Melamed Club. Encourage your children, grandchildren, nieces, nephews, and friends to attend. The synagogue is a wonderful place to make new friends or to begin an exciting new relationship!

Events in January and February, 1994: January 12 - "Come In Out of the Cold;" February 16 - "The Purim Connection."

Call Sandy Zimmel to make your reservations for these future events.

Purim Holiday Customs

On the holiday of Purim, it is traditional to do the following:

- Listen to the Reading of the Megillah recited on Thursday evening, February 24th in the synagogue, beginning at 6 P.M.
- Send mishloah manot, sometimes referred to as shalach manot, a gift of at least two kinds of food to at least one person.
- Give matanot l'evyonim, at least two gifts to two poor people (donations of food or money to the Park Avenue Synagogue Food Pantry or contributions to the Park Avenue Synagogue Welfare Fund or to the Committee For The Homeless & Community Outreach will fulfill this mitzvah).
- Attend the 7:15 A.M. morning service and Megillah Reading on Friday, February 25th.
- Enjoy a festive Shabbat dinner late in the day of Purim on Friday, February 25th.

Tuition: Members $60; Non-members $70.

Shabbat Workshop With Rabbi Zaiman

"And on the seventh day you should rest." But why is Shabbat so important? How can we bring the Sabbath into our homes and into our lives? What are some of the traditional Shabbat rituals and customs?

These questions will be addressed by Rabbi Elana Zaiman at an informal workshop on Sunday, January 16 from 10 to 11:30 A.M. Bring family members and friends. Tuition is free.
